

About me

Name: Pranil Gundugola

Contact information: gundugola0803@mydusd.org

Skills: I am new to coding, however I am a fast learner and I have some background knowledge in python. I am into AI which is why I took CSE this year. I also enjoy building stuff as I was in IED last year, and I realized I would've enjoyed if I could program my projects to do the activity on its own.

I am interested in physics well, and I am going to join engineering society, which is a club with many committees in it. I strive to be a part of mechanical engineering and aerospace engineering.

My dream college is UC Berkeley or UC San Diego as I love how they are both close to home, and I like the campus for both of them.
